Montana Judge Supports His Claims to the Minnie Healy Mine, Valued at $10,000,000, but Appeal Likely to Follow.

BUTTE, Ment., Oct. 22.-Judge Clancy n the District Court here to-day decided the famous Minnie Healy mining suit in favon of F. Augustus Heinze, whose claims to the mine have been opposed by the Boston and Montana Mining Ginnis, a stockholder in the Boston and Company, one of the allied Amalga-proper conduct by Judge Harney during the pendency of the case in his court. Judge Clancy's decision was not regarded as final.

The case, it is said, will be fought through the highest courts in the land. The title of the case is "Miles Finlen vs. the Johnstown Mining Company," a suit ne Jonnstown aminis Consension in a verbal contract.

In the Minnie Healey case Miles Finen was the nominal plaintiff and F. A. Heinze the defendant. The real plaintiff in interest was the Boston & Montana Company. The plaintiffs claim title to Company. The plaintiffs claim title to the property.

F. A. Heinze set up the counter claim that Finien sold him the property by oral contract.

The first trial was held before Judge Harney, who decided in favor of Heinze. That decision was set aside or reversed by the Supreme Court on account of the scandal connecting Judge Harney with one Mrs. Brackett, who, it was contended, bribed the Judge. Mrs. Brackett, according to the Amalgamated Copper people, represented F. A. Heinze and influenced him to decide in favor of Heinze.

Heinze.

In the second trial the case was heard by Judge Clancy, who has decided the case in favor of the Heinze interests.

The suits over the Minnie Healey mine are so invilved that it is almost impossible for the lay mind to follow them. There have been suits, counter-suits, appeals, cross-suits and other legal actions too numerous to mention.

Americans opened dull and fluctuated widely on either side of parity; pending a clearance of the situation in America. They hardened in the last hour and closed firm.
